

Dover Hosts Haunted Library

Dover, OH

Friday, November 6 from 7-8 pm, Dover Public Library invites children ages eight through twelve to experience the Haunted Library event. This after-hours program is made possible by Teen volunteers who will be helping lead a haunted walk through the library and run games and other activities in the Community Room. Refreshments will be provided at this free event. Interested patrons may call the library at 330-343-6123 to register or for more information.

The Haunted Library is a joint event between the Teen and Children's Departments. Teen volunteers will lead groups on a haunted walk through the Adult Department of the library, then into the Community Room for games, crafts, and refreshments. Costumes are encouraged for both teen volunteers and children, but they are not required.

"Our teens are very excited for the return of Haunted Library this year," says Teen Librarian Liz Strauss. "They can't wait to hide in the maze, lead groups through, and help with games and crafts in the Community Room."

"The teen volunteers do a great job; their enthusiasm and energy are priceless," adds Children's Librarian Pat Rombach. "They help make the Haunted Library a really fun night for all the kids. We couldn't do it without them!"
